

PORTRAIT OF NOTT GIVEN TO COURT

Members of Bar Honor Retiring Chief Justice.

Widow of Late Judge the Donor.
McCammon Makes Address.

The announcement that the members of the bar would present to the Court of Claims this morning a handsome life-size oil portrait of Chief Justice C. C. Nott, retired, served to bring together in the court room more than a hundred prominent lawyers, and in addition there were quite a number of ladies present.

Another portrait, that of the late John Davis, was presented the court by his widow. Both portraits were painted by Robert Hinckley, a Washington artist of note.

Mrs. Davis wrote the court a letter in which she asked that the portrait of her late husband be accepted to be hung on the wall with the portraits of other members of the bench.

McCammon Acts for Bar.

After the court had handed down a number of decisions Joseph K. McCammon advanced to the bar, and on behalf of the members addressed the court, saying that he had been requested to present to the court a portrait of Chief Justice C. C. Nott, retired. He would make no speech, but would read to the court the correspondence which followed the Chief Justice's consent to sit for his portrait. The letter to the Chief Justice told of the regret with which the attorneys had heard of his withdrawal from the bench and paid tribute to his ability as a judge.

Judge Peelle Accepts Portraits.

The portrait was accepted after appropriate remarks by Chief Justice Peelle for the court.

The portrait of Judge Davis was then accepted by Chief Justice Peelle, who directed that the letters of Mrs. Davis and those read by Mr. McCammon be made parts of the records of the court.

SAMANA BAY UPRISING OVER WITHOUT BLOOD

Commander Southard Reports Peaceful Settlement of Political Troubles in Santo Domingo.

The revolution in Santo Domingo is over. Commander Southard, the senior American naval officer at Monte Christi, Santo Domingo, reported by cable to the Navy Department under yesterday's date as follows:

"Satisfactory settlement has been arrived at Samana bay, Santo Domingo, by the efforts of Horacio Vasquez, by the efforts of Horacio Vasquez, all trouble is over. Forces withdrawn; all is quiet elsewhere. The Paducah (an American gunboat) is here."

From an earlier dispatch received from Commander Southard it appears that the revolution at Samana was caused by the dissatisfaction on the part of a large proportion of the people in that district to the appointment of Government Delegate Cabrera, Commander Southard's first dispatch, dated April 7, in which the situation was explained.

"There is organized opposition at Samana aimed to resist attempt to install Government Delegate Cabrera. The president of Santo Domingo to go personally, and it is to be hoped will make a compromise."

MARY SIDEL'S FATHER WILL NOT GET CHILD

Board of Children's Guardians Decides He Is Not the Proper Custodian.

Little Mary Sidel, who was arrested by Detective Horne several days ago as a fugitive from her father in Wilmington, Del., is still in the hands of the local Board of Children's Guardians. Officials of that organization and Captain Boardman stated today that the girl's mother, who lives near La Plata, Md., had been informed of her arrest and detention in this city, but up to noon today no reply from her had been received.

It was stated that the child would not be turned over to her father. The officials of the board say they believe him to be unfit to have charge of the girl. At present Mary is in an institution, but the executive clerk of the board refused to say which one it was.

LEWIS WILL SUCCEED JUDGE MOSES HALLETT

It was announced today that the President has decided to nominate Robert E. Lewis as United States district judge of Colorado, to succeed Judge Moses Hallett, who will retire in the near future.

Judge Hallett has been presiding over the Federal bench of Colorado since January 12, 1877, nearly thirty years.

Robert E. Lewis is a native of Missouri, having been closely identified with the Republican party of that State up to a few years ago. He has been for the last three years judge of the District court of El Paso county, Col.

Mr. Lewis was the candidate of Representatives Brooks, Hoge, and Bonying. They at first supported Judge Campbell, of the Colorado Supreme Court, but for some reason withdrew his name. Judge Campbell, it is understood, was objectionable to Senators Teller and Patterson.

J. R. RUDD RELEASED ON BOND.

James R. Rudd, a colored hoodlumper, who pleaded guilty today in Criminal Court to violation of the policy law, was released from custody on his personal bond.

Property of Railroads Safe in People's Hands

Their Interests Guarded by Public as Well as By Men Who Run Them, Says Senator McLaurin.

"That the property of railroads is as eagerly and carefully guarded by the public as by those who operate railroads is the contention Senator McLaurin advanced in his speech in the Senate on railway rate regulation today."

Mr. McLaurin is one of the Democratic members of the Senate Committee on Interstate Commerce and was one of those who voted the Hepburn-Dolliver bill out of that committee against the Aldrich-Foraker-Crane-Kean-Elkins combination. He argued that with an amendment providing for a full court review, the present bill would adequately meet the demands of the public and also give the railroad companies assurance that their property rights would not be attacked unjustly.

Favors Bailey Proposition.

As a court review amendment he favored the Bailey proposition. In support he said that as the railroads were entirely dependent upon the patronage of the public and vice versa, that in the event of a failure of these parties to agree as to what was a just and reasonable rate as between places or localities the logical conclusion would be to empower the Interstate Commerce Commission, a disinterested tribunal, to establish such rate. This, he said, he

BURNS-HAYES FACTION CONTINUE LEGAL FIGHT

The second week of the legal fight between the Burns and Hayes factions of the Knights of Labor for control of the organization was begun today, before Justice Wright, in Circuit Court No. 1.

John W. Hayes, the leader of his faction, who was on the witness stand two days last week continued his testimony this morning.

The general officers of the Burns faction, who instituted proceedings in quo warranto, to oust the general officers of the Hayes faction from control of the order, testified in the early part of last week and rested their case so far as the offering of direct evidence is concerned.

It is probable the trial will occupy the attention of Justice Wright for two weeks or longer.

AUTO PLUNGES DOWN GEN. PUTNAM'S HILL

GREENWICH, Conn., April 8.—A big automobile, driven by a man giving the name of W. P. Cronan, of New York, did what old Gen. Israel Putnam's fiery steed of Revolutionary days did at Greenwich—plunged down the Rocky Steep Hill, and came within an ace of causing the death of Mr. Cronan.

At Putnam Hill, the steepest between New York and New Haven, the steering gear broke. Cronan was going nearly thirty miles an hour. His car dashed into an iron rail, placed to prevent people from falling over the hill, twenty feet high.

The rail was broken and the car dashed down the hill. Luckily, the hind wheels caught in the rail long enough to save the owner, who was thrown out. He was assisted by passing motorists.

SCRATCHED UNTIL BLOOD RAN

Scales on Face and Head—Threw off Little Watery Substance—Scratching Caused Very Bad Sores to Form—Other Remedies Did No Good.

COMPLETE CURE BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

"I will be glad to give anybody suffering from eczema any information regarding Cuticura Remedies. When my little girl was about a year and a half old there developed small pimples on her face which went into a scale which threw off a little watery substance. Her head was also affected with it. She used to scratch until it bled, making very bad sores. We tried two or three salves, including borax. They did not do any good, so I got some Cuticura Soap first, and then used the Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills. They completely cured her, and we have had no more bother with it. Anything you want to publish regarding this will be O. K. Yours respectfully, Wm. F. Knox, 1216 So. 35th St., Philadelphia, Pa., June 10, 1905."

ANOTHER CURE

"I suffered from falling hair and dandruff, and also pimples on the face for about one year, and have been using medical treatment during that period without any satisfaction, until advised by friends of the Cuticura Remedies. I began using them, and in a short time they proved successful. I recommend the Cuticura Remedies to all who suffer from troubles of the skin, scalp, and hair. I remain, yours truly, Ben. L. Kastner, 1824 Ashland Ave., Baltimore, Md., June 19, 1905."

WOODED BY WHISKY, BECOMES CRIMINAL

Rum Habit Caused Young Baker to Steal.

ROBBED HIS BENEFACTOR

Acknowledges Fault to Judge in Piteous Plea and Goes to the Lock-Up.

"I wish I could keep away from it, judge. It would mean everything in the world to me if I could. But I can't."

August Niebelt, a young German, made this piteous plea in the Police Court this morning, where he was arraigned for the larceny of a purse containing $25, from Godfrey Mayer, who had been his benefactor and constant friend. The boy said that whisky had been the cause of his ruin and the evidence of Mayer and of police officers familiar with his case substantiated the statement.

One policeman said young Niebelt had been drunk practically the whole time for two years. This attracted the attention of Judge Kimball.

"Well," said the judge, "somebody ought to be sent to jail for selling this boy whisky. He is a minor, is he not?"

Niebelt said he was twenty-two, but he does not look it. The evidence showed he had been employed for some time at a hotel as a baker. Last Friday he went to the Mayer home to sleep, and when he left he carried away a purse containing the money. The purse and part of the money were found in his possession when he was arrested. Mayer said he thought the lad was crazy from the effects of drink, and not responsible for his actions. For this reason he did not care to prosecute.

"I shall have this boy locked up for a time, until he can get rid of the appetite for whisky. Three months," said Judge Kimball.

Niebelt was led away. He does not look like a criminal, but the effects of the drinking he has done show in his face.

STATEHOOD CONFEREES POSTPONE MEETING

There will probably be no meeting of the conferees on Statehood this week; certainly not till the latter part of the week. Indiana has two members of the committee, Beveridge from the Senate and Brick from the House, and as there is a State convention in Hoosierdom this week, attendance at which is absolutely necessary to Congressmen from that section, it will be impossible for the committee to do any business.

GREAT INTEREST HERE IN INDIANA CONVENTION

Representative Brick to Sound Keynote at First Republican Gathering of the Year.

Two or three members of the Indiana delegation will leave tonight to attend the Republican State convention in their State. Representative Brick will make the keynote speech, and much interest is expressed both in Washington and in the State as to his utterances. Vice President Fairbanks will not leave Washington, although the convention is considered important as relating to his Presidential candidacy.

The convention is also interesting because it is the first of the year. Indiana has some very pressing local problems on its hands which are to receive attention at this gathering. These relate particularly to the methods of handling public funds. Recently State officers have been prosecuted for defalcations, and Governor Hanly and others are determined that the convention shall declare itself vigorously for a policy of stricter accountability.

Representative Brick, who will be temporary chairman, is well known to be a tariff revisionist, notwithstanding that he represents the South Bend district, which is one of the most important manufacturing sections in the State. It is said, however, that his speech will recognize the pressing character of the tariff issue and conceding the possible fallibility of particular schedules will not go so far as to demand immediate revision or even revision at the hands of this Congress. The platform is expected to be strong on railroad rates.

CONTRACTURAL RIGHTS VIOLATED IN CLEVELAND

The United States Supreme Court today affirmed the decree of the circuit court for the northern district of Ohio, in the case of the city of Cleveland and the Forest City Railroad Company vs. the Cleveland Electric Railway Company, holding that the ordinance of January 11, 1904, violated contractual franchise rights of the established street railway system in Cleveland.
